TAYLOR SPLATT & PARTNERS BRIGHT FUTURE IS SECURED

The future is bright for Taylor Splatt & Partners (TSP) with today's announcement that the Carrum Downs law firm has been acquired by Graham Fountain.

TSP have been operating for 75 years and its experienced and trusted Principal, Alan Splatt, will remain at the firm moving forward. Alan's continued presence will ensure TSP clients experience a seamless transition and, more importantly, will see Alan and Graham working together to collaboratively grow the practice and deliver service excellence to its clients into the future.

About the acquisition, Alan said, "this is a great outcome for all concerned and provides an ideal succession of the practice into safe and experienced hands, that will see TSP grow and diversify moving forward. Graham brings energy and a wealth of executive management, governance and legal experience to TSP. I look forward to working with Graham, our staff and clients to deliver an exciting new phase in TSP's lengthy and successful history".

Graham Fountain notes "TSP is a wonderful firm with a long and proud history, supporting its clients through generations and across a range of legal practice areas. I am delighted to be taking over the firm with the full support of Alan and I look forward to working with him to maintain the legacy he and the previous owners have achieved. I am fully committed to working with Alan to grow and diversify TSP for the benefit of our clients and staff alike. I look forward to meeting our clients in the near future".
